

A DOLLAR OR TWO.

As sung nightly, with tremendous applause, by Mrs W.
A. JONES in the drama of "Fast women" at the
New Bowery Theatre. the music to be had of
D. H. Biesseher.

Presented for publication by Bennett & Carroll.

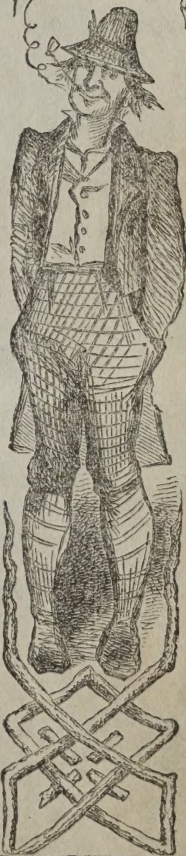

With cautious steps, as we tread on our way through
This troublesome world, just as other folks do,
May we still, on our journey, be able to view
The benevolent face of a dollar or two ;
For an excellent thing is a dollar or two ;
No friend sticks so close as a dollar or two ;
Through country or town as you pass up or down,
No pass-port as good as a dollar or two.
A dollar or two, a dollar or two !
It has a magical power to help a man through ;
The pagan, the christian, the gentile, the jew
All bow with reverence to a dollar or two.

CHORUS.

Be sure and take care of your money, my boys,
Be sure and take care of your money ;
For you'll find that your friends will be distant and few,
If you ever run short of a dollar or two.

Would you rid yourself of a bachelor crew,
And the hand of a beautiful lady pursue ?
You must always be ready the handsome to do,
Although it may cost you a dollar or two ;
Love's arrows are tipped with a dollar or two,
And the nectar is sipped for a dollar or two.
The best aid you can get of teasing your pet,
Is the eloquent chink of a dollar or two.
A dollar or two, a dollar or two !
There is nothing so useful to help a man through,
In sorrow or joys, with the girls or the boys ;
We acknowledge no friend but a dollar or two. Chorus.

Would you wish your existence with faith to imbue,
And enroll in the ranks of a satisfied few,
To enjoy a good name and a cushion'd pew ?
You must freely come down with a dollar or two ;
For, the gospel is cheap for a dollar or two,
And salvation is reached for a dollar or two.
You may trespass some times, but worst of all crimes
Is to find yourself short of a dollar or two.
A dollar or two, a dollar or two !
It is for that now I am singing to you ;
And when to your city I bid an Adieu,
I am in hopes to be blessed with a dollar or two. Chorus.

A DOLLAR A DAY.

As a result of the investigation, the following facts have been ascertained: That the sum of $1.00 is the minimum amount which can be paid for the purchase of a dollar's worth of goods.

With conditions there, as we find on our way to the store, this would seem to be a fair offer. But we shall, on the contrary, be able to secure the same amount for a dollar or two. For instance, if we buy a dollar's worth of goods, we shall be able to secure a dollar's worth of goods. This is a fair offer, and we shall be able to secure the same amount for a dollar or two. The same is true of the other goods. All now will be able to secure the same amount for a dollar or two.

Let us now take one of our dollars, and see what we can do with it. We shall find that we can secure a dollar's worth of goods for a dollar or two. This is a fair offer, and we shall be able to secure the same amount for a dollar or two. The same is true of the other goods. All now will be able to secure the same amount for a dollar or two.
